Summary

Real success for me is measured by how many people are better emotionally, mentally, physically, financially & spiritually - because I've lived well. Because I've spent my time, money and energy right. I only had to heard it once when I was young and ever since, I've owned this quote.

This ideology dominates my work life. My businesses have come up in light of these.

I take inspiration from my self made entrepreneur father & my mentor. I don't believe in free lunch. Everything needs to be earned. All good things come at a cost.
